Another award for a rugged soldier
GENERAL TAYLOR'S GOLD MEDAL FOR MONTEREY

By

GEORGIA S. CHAMBERLAIN, A.N.A. No. 23480

Reverse of the Medal

THE obverse of the gold medal voted to Major General Zachary Taylor by the resolution of Congress of March 2, 1847, for the victory of Monterey is a duplicate of the obverse of his gold medal for Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma.

William Carl Brown had painted in oil a half-length profile likeness of the Major General from life in Mexico in 1847. He had painted a copy in oil for the use of the Mint in the preparation of Taylor's first gold medal voted by Congress July 16, 1846 for the victories of Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma. John T. Battin had modeled a bas-relief from the profile portrait, which was cast in iron, and Franklin Peale had prepared the dies from this iron model on the Contamin portrait lathe. In payment, Brown had been given the dies of the medal for his own use, while the Mint retained his copy of Zachary Taylor's portrait and also the hubs of the medal.

Now new dies were needed for Taylor's second medal. Director of the Mint R. M. Patterson suggested that the hub which he had retained could be used to strike the profile head of Taylor upon the obverse die, thus reducing expenses, in his letter of April 1, 1848 to William L. Marcy, Secretary of War. The oak wreath of the reverse was possibly designed by J. B. Longacre, then Chief Engraver to the United States Mint. While the portrait on the obverse is interesting and forceful, Taylor's second Congressional gold medal is not the distinguished or outstanding specimen of American medallic art later achieved in his third medal awarded for the Battle of Buena Vista.

This is the second of three articles by Mrs. Robert S. Chamberlain of Alexandria, Va. on national medals awarded to the hero of the War with Mexico.

The following letter from the mint records of the National Archives, Washington, D. C. tells the story of the production of Major General Taylor's gold medal for Monterey:

Mint of the United States
Philadelphia, April 1st, 1848

Sir:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 30th ult., in which you ask my assistance in preparing a second medal for Major General Taylor, voted him by Congress by the Joint Resolution approved March 2d, 1847. I need not assure you that any service I can render to you in this matter shall be cheerfully given.

I have consulted with Mr. Peale, and we propose that new dies should be made both for the face and reverse. The head must be the same as in the medal sent, but a difference may be made in the size or form of the letters. For the reverse die we propose to have a new wreath which will distinguish it from the former.

Thus we recommend for the obverse a head of General Taylor with the legend

for the reverse an oak wreath with the inscription

RESOLUTION OF CONGRESS
MARCH 2, 1847
MONTEREY
SEPTEMBER, 1846

As we have a hub for striking the head upon the obverse die, and a new likeness of General Taylor is not required, the expense of preparing this medal will be reduced, and Mr. Peale accordingly presents the following estimate:

For one pair dies hardened and polished complete	$450
Fine gold weighing 8 oz. 15/100	167.50
Striking the medal	20.00
Case	5.00
Total cost	($642.50)

If the proposals made have your approbation, the medal can be prepared and sent within the present month.

The portrait of General Taylor painted by Mr. Brown is now in the Mint, and is no longer required by us. It would seem properly to belong to your Department. Shall I send it to you?

R. M. P. (Robert M. Patterson)
Director

To Hon. W. L. Marcy
Secretary of War.

As indicated by this and a later letter Brown's copy of his portrait of Taylor painted in Mexico in 1847 evidently passed from the Mint, Philadelphia to the War Department in Washington. Recently I had the pleasure of viewing this oil painting in the Office of the Secretary of Defense in the Pentagon. The portrait is in full profile, half length. Taylor is looking down, his firm chin somewhat hidden by his collar decorated with gold oak leaves. His expression is almost smiling, his complexion ruddy. The portrait is a live and warm one of the rugged commander and Battin modeled from it quite faithfully, perhaps over-emphasizing the buttons and epaulette, rather than the characterful face.

A half length portrait of Taylor in military uniform executed in Mexico by William Garl Brown in 1847 with head turned half way to the spectator's left is owned by the Louisiana State Museum, New Orleans, La. Brown offered a full length painting of General Taylor to the Joint Committee on the Library of Congress for $1,000 in a letter dated April 7, 1848, but his offer was evidently not taken up, according to Fairman's Art and Artists of the Capitol. The Corcoran Gallery of Art in Washington owns a half length portrait of the General facing the viewer's right but it is in civilian dress and was probably painted later when Taylor became President.

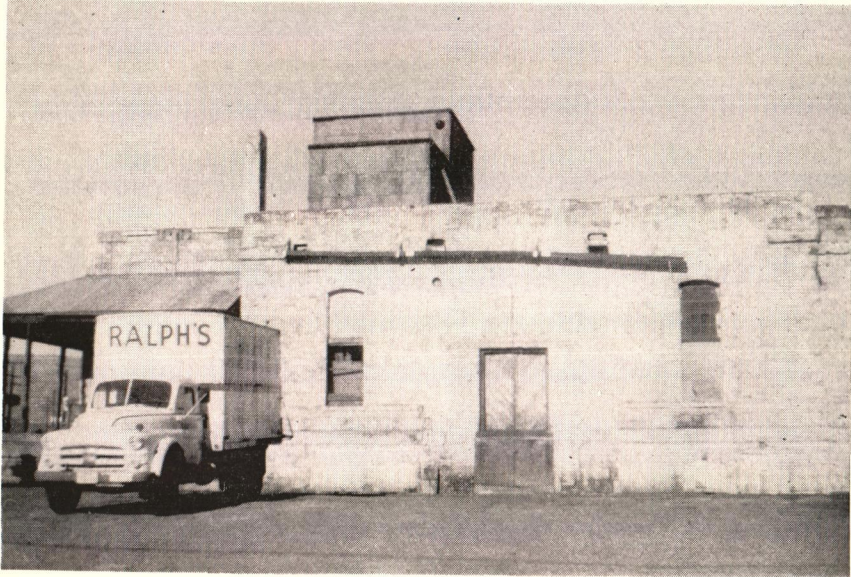

Gold Coins in Switzerland — In response to a parliamentary query, the Swiss government expressed the view that the minting of 25- and 50-franc gold coins was inappropriate in the present economic situation.

THE MINT WE ALMOST HAD

By

JAMES J. PADDEN, A.N.A. No. 13543

Old mint building

SOME of you who visit Portland for our A.N.A. convention in Oregon's centennial year will undoubtedly travel through the city of The Dalles in the northernmost central part of the state. If you are driving you may pass a gray stone building which has been painted with aluminum paint. It is located at the east end of the city. This building was originally intended to be a United States mint, but has fulfilled a more prosaic existence.

In 1861 gold was discovered in the Salmon River area, causing a rush which "nearly depopulated Portland." Earnings from $300.00 to $500.00 a day were reported, with the usual gold rush increase in prices. Prices of $30.00 for a cord of wood and $25.00 for a barrel of flour were common. Many such news items can be read in the Statesman, published at Walla Walla, a city in Washington east of The Dalles. Concurrent with these conditions was a dearth of coin in the locality.

Since the nearest mint was at San Francisco, Calif., miners had to ship their gold almost a thousand miles to be coined, entailing no small expense and some risk, to say nothing of delay. Thus, agitation began for a branch mint located in Oregon.

James J. Padden, Vancouver, Wash., joins in the spirit of Oregon's centennial year and offers us a story of the virtually unknown mint proposed and built, but never operated in, The Dalles, Ore.

Becoming a local political issue, it resulted in the defeat of Congressman McBride in 1864, who favored Dalles City – as the town was called then – rather than Portland.

On July 4 (?), 1864, the Thirty-Eighth Congress approved “An Act (13 Stat. L., 382) to establish a Branch Mint of the United States at Dalles City in the state of Oregon . . . for the coinage of gold and silver.” The act also provided for the necessary personnel and their salaries. Placed under the control of the Director of the Mint, Philadelphia, subject to the Secretary of the Treasury, it was designated a depository of public monies and authorized to issue certificates of deposit and drafts. The sum of $100,000 was appropriated for its construction.

Volume 1863-68, p. 272 of The Dalles City Council Journal shows under the date of August 22, 1868, an entry authorizing extension of a deed for Block 19 – bounded by Second (N) Monroe (E), Third (S) and Madison (W) Streets – of (Mary) Laughlin's Addition – to the United States. Page 10 of Volume 1869-78 of the Journal shows a warrant dated March 20, 1869 drawn in favor of Mrs. Mary Laughlin for $600.00 to pay for the land. The United States was charged $5.00.

Building was commenced in 1869, but in 1871 the partially completed building was gutted by fire. Work was again resumed but less and less gold was being mined in the area, and by 1875 became so scarce that the project was abandoned. On March 3 of that year the Forty-Third Congress approved “An Act (18 Stat. L., 518) to donate to the State of Oregon a public building lot and material situated at The Dalles, Oregon:

“That the mint-building, material and lot on which it is located, at The Dalles, Oregon, be, and the same are hereby, donated to the State of Oregon: Provided: That the donation is made on the condition that the said building and lot shall be appropriated by the State of Oregon to the use of some educational or charitable institution.”

Judging from the size of the building, which also has a basement, there could not have been room for more than three coining presses along with the other machinery and space needed for storage. Had the mint operated, any coins struck would probably have borne the mint mark DC for Dalles City as the town was known at the time. Official information on this point is lacking, as well as what coins were to be minted. Since it was authorized to coin both gold and silver, it seems reasonable to suppose that gold double eagles, eagles and half eagles, and silver dollars, halves, quarters and dimes might have been coined. At any rate, it would have produced a small amount of coins compared even to the San Francisco output at the time.

State authorities, if bothered at all, were probably hard put to find a suitable purpose for the building, for it remained idle until purchased in 1889 by local citizens. To comply with the Act of Congress the money from the transaction was allocated to the use of public education in Oregon.

At present only fragmentary information concerning the subsequent use of the building has been available, time not having permitted a search of the local records. Informed local sources indicate the building housed the boilers of the Diamond Milling Company “for a number of years.” Mr. Callahan of the firm of Cargill, Inc. states that the Kerr-Gifford Co. purchased the building in 1917. In 1943 the front portion of the building sustained considerable damage from fire and was not rebuilt until 1947. Cargill, Inc. purchased the building in June, 1953 and in turn sold it January 1, 1959, to the present occupant, Ralph's Transfer and Storage Company.

Former President Herbert Hoover received the Hosea Ballou medal from Tufts University in recognition of his contributions to engineering.

So posterity might have the images of the great

DAVID D'ANGERS

By

CARSTEN SVARSTAD

IN the proud succession of French medalists during the nineteenth century, the sculptor Pierre Jean David of Angers has an exceptional position. This has several reasons: his vast and characteristic production, and the quality of his work.

David, who was born March 12, 1788, in Angers in the department however, is not his many brilliant statues and busts, but his medallions of the great women and men of his time. He has modeled more than 500 of these, sparing no effort or expense to visit famous people whose features he considered it his duty to preserve for the future. His medallions by far surpass anything produced by the medalists of Europe in the first half of the last century.

David's earliest medallions are dated 1814, but his famous Galerie des Contemporains was not begun until 1827. From that year to 1854

Harriet Beecher Stowe medal

Maine-et-Loire, was educated as a sculptor in Paris and Rome. His first official assignment was the statue of Condé. This was commenced by his teacher Roland, but was completely remodelled by David. Statue now succeeded statue, and bust followed bust from his studio — altogether more than fifty. Among the most famous can be mentioned those of Racine, Talma, Goethe, Gutenberg, Washington and Jefferson.

What has primarily procured David his great and constant fame,

he constantly produced new medallions, not all equally good, but characteristic and interesting.

Among David's many medallions there are three of American citizens: Captain Uriah Lévy, James Fenimore Cooper and Harriet Beecher Stowe. The medallion of Lévy was made in 1831, the other two in 1833 and 1853 respectively. Owing to the international fame of the two authors, their portraits are most interesting to our time. Both belong to David's best work, and are exceptionally characteristic of his style. The fondness with which he modelled hair, and his deep interest in phrenology here clearly appears. The signatures of both the portrayed are reproduced in facsimile on the medallions, a fact that indicates that these were modelled ad vivum. As products of one of the greatest medalists of the age, and as portraits of two of America's greatest names in literature in the nineteenth century, these medallions will always occupy an honorable position in numismatic collections all over the world.

In an immense production such as David's, one cannot expect everything to be equally good. He has been blamed that in many of his works there is too much theater, effect-hunting and external characteristics. These reproaches, however, do not apply to his best things, which in all time will bear witness to a great artist.

During his entire life David was interested in politics and was a glowing friend of liberty. He therefore had to go into exile after the coup d'etat of Napoleon III. This probably hastened his death five years later. Most of his work today rests in the Musée des Beaux-Arts in Angers, where there also is a statue of him.

A Mexican Municipal Coin

By

DR. A. F. PRADEAU, A.N.A. No. 3787

Recently the Director of the Library and Museum of Sonora, México, was confronted by Carlos A. Fuentes with the earliest known copper coin of the State of Sonora. Although evidently struck with a circular die, either the planchet was defective or because of wear, mutilation or oxidation, or all combined, its present shape is irregular and the marginal inscription is partly obliterated. From the photographic reproduction the description might be as follows:

Obverse: In the center of the field the date 1821, crowned; below it, three blended lobes encasing oblique lines, the end ones having three lines each, while the center lobe has four. Both the lobes and the lines lean toward the left. Within two concentric circles is the marginal inscription which might be construed as AYUNTAMIENTO DE — CUARTO D. R. (Municipality of — one-fourth of a real).

Reverse: Is plain except for the word PITIC across the center of the field.

Edge: Without visible signs of having had any reeding.

Size: 22 millimeters in diameter.

Metal: Copper or bronze.

Weight: 4.065 grams.

Historical Sketch: Pitic was a native settlement on the left bank of the Sonora river and has been known as San Pedro de la Conquista, Pueblo de Seris. At present it bears the name of Hermosillo and is the capital of the State of Sonora.

It is believed to be a municipal issue of the hispanic period because of the crowned date; also, because Pitic did not swear allegiance to the insurgent movement for independence until September 13, 1821. It is also surmised that this coin was not made in Pitic where there were no facilities and its execution is far superior to the issues made in Alamos (1828-1829) or those of Hermosillo (1832-1837); therefore, the writer ventures the guess that this coinage was the product of the Durango mint.

Canadian Gold Dealings — Unrestricted trading in gold bars has started on the Toronto Stock Exchange, the only exchange in the world that quotes gold. The amount traded on the first day of operations is reported at about $100,000. A valuation of $34 per ounce has been established for margin sales. The margin required is the difference between the purchase price and US$34. The purchase of a bar of one kilogram for $1,120 on full margin requires a down-payment of about $32 plus commission of $3.50 plus the first year's interest in advance at 5% per cent on the balance. — International Financial News Survey.

Florida Convention Draws Crowd

General view of the F.U.N. banquet

The Florida United Numismatists met in its fourth annual gathering at the Mayflower Hotel, Jacksonville, Fla., January 8-11. An estimated two thousand attended. Thirty-seven dealers made the bourse a magnet for collectors.

Awards to the exhibit winners were presented at the banquet by M. Vernon Sheldon, Past President of the American Numismatic Association. Best in show went to Irving Moskovitz for his sixteen case display of gold coins of the world. U. S. patterns won a first for Gaston Di Bello; U. S. types, second for August Hausske; U. S. coins, third for A. H. Leatherman; U. S. half dollars, fourth for Warren S. Henderson. The foreign coins class was won by Gaston Di Bello, gold types and denominations; second to E. L. Weikert, ancient Romans. In the paper money division, first went to Harper Mercer for an exhibit of U. S. dollar bills; second, Florida and broken bank notes, Jack Sweetman; third, miscellaneous, banks and "soft" specie, H. A. Brand; fourth, broken bank notes, H. R. Rogers. In the miscellaneous category, mint errors gave first to Wilson E. Pollard; engraved coins, second to Sidney W. Smith.

For a time it seemed no auction might be allowed on a technicality, but this was overcome when Donald L. Rhodes instituted a silent auction with success. Bids were posted on blackboards beside the lot numbers and when the set time arrived for closing bids, lots were awarded to the highest bidders.

Officers for 1959 are: President Douglas Brown, First Vice President W. Fox Steinberg; Second Vice President Grady Radford; Treasurer Grover Criswell; Secretary Caryl Wm. Carper; Directors V. J. Amorose, Leo Le San, C. H. Cox, Jack Sweetman. The retiring president was V. J. Amorose.

The next convention is scheduled for January 14-17, 1960, at the Sorreno Hotel, St. Petersburg, Fla.

Nickel Coinage Increases — The use of nickel for coinage purposes increased by 50 per cent during 1958.

Stolen Beaver Dies Recovered

When the American Numismatic Association's convention is held in Portland, August 26-29, on exhibit will be dies from which the famous $5 and $10 Beaver gold pieces were minted in 1849. Because of the theft of these dies about February 28, the exhibit was in doubt until Portland police announced recovery of the dies and the arrest of three suspects. The dies are valued at $20,000 by the Oregon Historical Society which owns them.

Plans are under way again to provide a special case — a strong one — for showing the dies, rollers and examples of the Oregon territorial gold pieces, said Lloyd Ruff of the Oregon Numismatic Society, chairman of this year's A.N.A. exhibits committee.

Stolen were one half of the $5 dies and a half of the $10 set. The first two men picked up by police reportedly said it was planned to try to turn out coins which they hoped to sell as collectors' items. At the time of the theft they did not realize the dies were of different sizes and could not be used to produce coins.

Arrested and held for questioning in the case are Donovan W. Arndts, 26, Kelso, Wash., Harvey W. Culver, 27, Portland, and Kenneth Leroy Schmitz, 25, Sandy, Ore. Portland police said the coöperation of Police Chief Ralph Benefiel in Longview, Wash., fifty miles from Portland, brought about recovery of the dies.

At the time of the theft, the historical society had the other halves of the dies in a vault.

The intruders ignored a sign over the case which read "The coming of law and order."

The burglars were evidently inept, for in fleeing via the fire escape they dropped a box containing a $5 and a $10 beaver, which were recovered. Values of the $5 pieces generally run from $435 to $850 and the $10, $3500 to $6000.

The dies were made and used by the Oregon Exchange Co. to mint territorial gold coins at Oregon City ten years before statehood, a centennial which the Beaver state is observing this year. It is the likeness of a beaver on one side of the coins which give them their name. A likeness of this particular beaver will be used on this year's convention badge.

Editorial

DOLLAR SIGN ON ETHICS?

Recently the Editor received a letter from an A.N.A. member who described a transaction he had had with a coin dealer. This quotation from the letter is sufficient to set the stage:

Last October I sent an order for some coin envelopes but it was about a month before the shipment reached me. Even so, it was short, for there were only 89 envelopes where there should have been 200. I wrote him by return mail, but have heard nothing since.

Although the order was a small one, so small, in fact, to classify almost as a nuisance, the collector should either have received the remaining 111 envelopes or a cash refund of the few cents due him. It is just as unethical to cheat a man of 50¢ as to take him for $50 or $500. The dealer in this instance would help his prestige and business more by taking care of the little mistakes that are bound to occur now and then than to ignore them. He'll be hurt in the long run and a coin collector may be lost to the hobby besides.

NATIONAL COIN WEEK

"Portrayal of Lincoln Through Numismatics: 1809-1959"

National Coin Week, April 12 through 18, is almost here. Have you completed your plans? There is still time to participate. Put every member of your club to work in some way . . . now!

Entry blanks, exhibit cards and other requested material have been sent to all club secretaries and to individual participants. It is my hope that every club and A.N.A. member will take an active part in National Coin Week in some way and publicize our fascinating hobby—by displaying—giving coin talks—writing articles for publication—getting new members for your club and for the A.N.A.—or any other activity that will follow the theme and purpose of NCW.

There are still entry blanks and exhibit cards available, on request, from your General Chairman. Rules, point system and instructions will be found on the back of your entry blank. Look to earlier issues of The Numismatist for ideas. The plaques to be awarded are well worth the effort, as are the award certificates. Remember to include in your entry all publicity items, displays and locations, talks, shows, photographs, etc. Please submit your entries in notebook or binder of some form, and be sure to specify on your entry blank if you wish to have your entry returned.

The winning entries and the plaques will be displayed at the A.N.A. convention in Portland, Ore., August 26-29, 1959. Anyone who works at this can win — publicity and exhibits count for points, as do speakers and special events.

Entries should be mailed to the Awards Chairman:

John S. Northcott
1012 N. Oakley

and MUST be postmarked no later than midnight of May 25, 1959, to be eligible.

Good luck to each and every club and individual who participates in NATIONAL COIN WEEK. I am pleased to have been General Chairman, and hope that I have fulfilled expectations satisfactorily. It has been heartwarming to see so much enthusiasm in all areas, including Canada (en masse), Alaska and Hawaii.

Kansas City, Mo., is the site of the seventeenth annual convention of the Central States Numismatic Society April 24-26. The Hotel Muehlebach, 12th and Baltimore, will house those attending, as well as exhibits, bourse, auction and banquet.

Host is the Heart of America Numismatic Association, celebrating its twenty-fifth year as a club. One of the largest and most active in the nation, committee members under the guidance of club President Ray Lefman and Convention Co-Chairmen Allison Lowe and Ray Janda have been preparing for this event for nearly two years.

The bourse will occupy the Grand Ballroom and will be limited to 75 dealers. A two session auction by S. J. Kabealo will be conducted Friday evening and Saturday afternoon. Catalogs are available from him at 2216 Colorado Ave., Pasadena, Calif.

The banquet on Saturday evening is being arranged by Ralph Bonden and Dave Hochberg. Excellent entertainment is planned.

Reservations should be made directly with the hotel. The latter is near transportation, whether air, rail or highway. A modern municipal parking garage is directly west of the hotel, with which it connects by tunnel.

A limited issue medal, designed by Bruce D. Busey, has been struck in nickel silver, 35 mm. in diameter. Of the 500 struck, HANA members and CSNS officials may purchase one medal. The remainder will be available at $2.25 each plus 25¢ handling charge from Felix Cannatella, Jr., 2311 Independence Ave., Kansas City 24, Mo.

Wooden money in 50¢, 25¢, 10¢ and 5¢ denominations has been issued. A complete set is available for $1.00.

A number of important matters will come before the Central States Numismatic Society's business meeting, according to President Harry X Boosel. Among them are the consideration of a constitution and a new set of by-laws prepared by CSNS Secretary-Treasurer F. S. Epps, Attorneys Fred Clarke and William Sheridan.

For added information, write Ray O. Lefman, 412 S. Van Brunt, Ray M. Janda, 9512 Wyandotte, or Allison E. Lowe, 5206 Highland, all of Kansas City, Mo.

German Minting of Gold Ducats—Gold ducats valued at 25 deutsche mark, with the head of Queen Elizabeth II taken from a design provided by the Royal Mint, have been struck by the Munich mint and are being offered for sale by West German banks, according to the London Times of January 29. The use of these ducats is being advocated as a suitable holding for Germans who want to hoard gold.

BRACTEATES: A coin struck on a broad thin piece of silver. The planchet was so thin that the design of the die showed on both sides. Therefore, only a single die was used. It is thought that, in some instances, wooden dies were used. They originated in Thuringia early in the twelfth century. Their use soon spread to other German provinces and they are known to have been used in Hungary, Bohemia, Poland, Switzerland and Scandinavia. A few examples of gold and of copper are in existence.

There is at present in Spain one mint, which is at Madrid. The old mint mark consisted of the letters MD intertwined. This was changed later for a crowned M, and finally, in the year 1850, the six-pointed star was introduced.

As the coins show the date of the law that authorized them, the custom of placing within the star the real date of issue began. So the new coins that bear, below the bust

Spanish Government ordered the setting up, within the precincts of the Exhibition, of a mint to coin in the public view the three kinds of coins of 50, 25 and 5 ptas. It was also ordered that these coins should be marked with the monogram BA, the ancient mint mark of Barcelona. This mint mark appeared on the Barcelona coins for the first time in the year 409 on the mintage of the Emperor Maximo the Tyrant.

The coins minted at the Exhibition could only be obtained on presentation of the entrance ticket and the number of pieces coined was about 30,000. — F. XAVIER CALICÓ

Ghana's Currency — By the end of November 1958, £14 million of West African Currency Board notes and nearly £2 million in coin had been withdrawn from circulation in Ghana. The Bank of Ghana's note circulation amounted to nearly £24 million, while £4 million in notes and £5.9 million in coin of the West African Currency Board issues were still in circulation.

Denver Club Boosts Commemorative

Dear Sir:

We, the members of the Denver Coin Club, seek the cooperation of all organized coin clubs in the United States and all A.N.A. members, to help in our effort to get a commemorative coin as proposed by Senator Gordon Allott of Colorado. The coin we wish to have minted will commemorate the establishment of the U. S. Air Force Academy in Colorado and Denver's "Rush to the Rockies" Centennial. A direct appeal to your U. S. representatives to further this attempt would be greatly appreciated.

Kosoff Sues Beyers Over Copper Cent

Because of the withdrawal of the 1943 copper cent from the A.N.A. auction last year in Los Angeles minutes before the coin was to go on the block, Abe Kosoff, the auctioneer, has filed suit in Superior Court, Los Angeles, against the coin's owners, the Marvin Beyers. The cataloger is seeking $60,750.00 on several counts, charging breach of contract, fraud, deceit and slander.

Cuban Society Protests Catalog Description

Dear Sir:

The Sociedad Numismática Cubana wishes to let it be known that in the catalog of a recent auction, by a well known and accredited dealer, there is a printed statement under a quotation for Cuban proof gold coins which states as follows: "It should be remembered that a recent record for proofs 20, 10, 5, 4, 2 and 1 pesos was US $8,000! This would make the above 4 pieces worth between $1,200-$2,000!"

The Sociedad Numismática Cubana hereby lodges a protest in that the aforementioned statement is misleading and therefore damaging to numismatics in general. It refers erroneously to a private auction celebrated at Habana over a year ago concerning a lot of nearly forty coins including several unique essays and patterns of the first coins minted, together with accreditative documents of same. This does not in any way reflect or alter the market values of other Cuban coins.

Consequently we respectfully request that this letter be published for the interest and knowledge of all numismatists.

Counterfeit 1916-D "Mercury" Dime

Counterfeiting and passing of the 1916-D "Mercury" dime is the charge against Curtis Leo Thompson, Davenport, Iowa, in an indictment brought by a federal grand jury. Canada Invites You

When making your plans for attending the A.N.A. convention in Portland, Ore. this year, why not consider taking in the Canadian Numismatic Association's meeting a few days later? The latter will be held in Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada, September 2 to 4, in the Hotel Saskatchewan. Host is the Regina Coin Club, headed by President Cecil C. Tannahill. Convention Chairman Jack C. Summerlin and his hard working committees promise that this sixth annual CNA convention, combined with the fourth annual Western Roundup of Coin Collectors, will be one of the best in Canadian numismatic history. Featured will be exhibits, bourse, auction and western hospitality. Inquiries should be sent to the Regina Coin Club, P. O. Box 1011, Regina. The club's Secretary-Treasurer is M. M. Watts.

Israel's Commemoratives

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

I feel that I must write you and tell you what an excellent edition your February Numismatist was! I wrote my publisher in Canada, and told him to be certain to get a copy.

I think I should pass along some information on the second Israel commemorative one pound coin proof and uncirculated, CHANUKAH 5719-1958. Of the uncirculated coins, 250,000 were minted and only 16,000 were sold at the agency in New York. The balance was sent back to Israel. Of the proof coins, 5,000 were sold, and only 2800 were sold in special blue plastic cases.

Penn-Ohio Spring Convention in Cleveland

One of the largest midwest coin events of the year is the expectation for the Penn-Ohio Spring Convention, scheduled in Cleveland's Tudor Arms Hotel, May 15 to 17. Actively expanding membership of the regional association, late Spring weather, and an easily reached city well known for its many conventions are good reasons why the upcoming show is expected to surpass the 1,000 registration mark chalked up by last Fall's Penn-Ohio meeting at Pittsburgh.

The entire hotel — Cleveland's newest — will be devoted to the event. Visitors to the 1956 convention will recall that the tournament-sized swimming pool, bowling alleys and steam and exercise rooms are among the unusual facilities available to guests. Reservations for rooms or suites should be made promptly to the Tudor Arms Hotel, Cleveland 6, Ohio.

Accommodations have been scheduled for seventy-five dealers at six-foot bourse tables with over 60% of dealer space already reserved. For bourse reservations write Bourse Chairman Matt J. Gazso, 23793 Gessner Rd., North Olmstead, Ohio.

Allocations of cases are now being made for the 150 exhibits planned. Case reservations should be directed to Exhibits Chairman Nathan Gold, 2905 Hampton Rd., Shaker Heights 20, Ohio.

A two session auction has been prepared by Michael J. Kolman, Jr., covering United States and foreign coins and currency. Highlights of the sale will include forty-three lots of U.S. coin notes, fine U.S. gold, including the 1824 half eagle and a group of Carson City $20 pieces, an extensive series of mint errors, featuring some of the rarest types. Among the latter are 1869 Indian cents on 10¢ and 5¢ planchets and a 1901-S $5 gold piece struck 1/6th off, farthest known for this denomination. Five thousand catalogs are being published and copies of the 2858 lot, twin-sale books may be had by writing Federal Coin Exchange, 5940 Pearl Rd., Cleveland 29, Ohio.

The convention is being sponsored by the three Cleveland area clubs, the Western Reserve Numismatic Club, Cleveland Coin Club, and the West Cuyahoga Coin Club. A committee of over fifty is headed by General Chairman Lemont B. Kier, 1355 Cleveland Heights Blvd., Cleveland 18, Ohio.

Record NASC Attendance

Over 1300 registrations were recorded for the three-day convention of the Numismatic Association of Southern California held at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Los Angeles, February 13-15. Seventeen states were represented and fifty-one dealers occupied bourse tables.

An overflow attendance at the banquet heard President Charles L. Ruby extoll the virtues of the association and tell of the successful efforts to promote numismatics throughout Southern California. Ruby urged members to cooperate with coin clubs in the area, with the California Numismatic Assn. and with the American Numismatic Association.

The best-in-show award went to Elliott Markoff, whose beautiful display featured choice specimens of U. S. type coins, including a stella and a Panama Pacific set in the copper frame. The 1960 show is scheduled for February 19 and 20 and will also be held at the Statler Hilton Hotel.

Francis W. Lannen, Box 82, S.D., suffered the loss of a $4,000 coin collection January 11. It is thought the stolen pieces are still in the Wyoming-Montana area. The coins were mostly U. S. pieces plus a large number of foreign coins. There were 18 commemoratives unc., 1936 Canadian $1 with hole punched through and nearly complete U. S. since 1880.

Schulman Auctions Antiquities

The first antiquities auction in the Waldorf-Astoria by Hans M. F. Schulman, well known coin dealer, was an event that drew about a thousand people to view the 700 lots of odd and curious money and ancient art. About 300 remained for the active bidding. A pair of gold Etruscan earrings brought $1150 from an Italian collector. A bronze lamp of the time of Christ brought $550; a delicate Etruscan statuette, $500. A gold coin of King Seleucus of Syria netted $500. The auctioneer was Donald D'Amato. At least 400 lots of Egyptian antiquities are scheduled for fall.

Future of Gold

In the Numismatic Scrapbook of January in the "Crystal Ball" predictions, I mentioned that I expect gold to follow the trend of platinum—that it will go down to a level under present gold value. It might interest readers to know how I came to this opinion.

Last summer I made a trip to Ireland, the Netherlands, Switzerland, France, Italy, Spain and the little principality of Andorra where the banks operate without custom control, without taxes, without import and export control, without any license or government interference. Wouldn't you have expected the vaults of these banks to be full of gold? Gold far away from any controlling eye? Well, I did, until I talked to many authorities. There was fear of immediate dumping of Russian gold on the European market and rumors of gold dropping. People were selling, not hoarding.

But now after the visit of Russian officials to the United States and other countries and of European officials to Moscow, the fear seems to be gone. It is definitely stated now that gold may go up and the vaults in the world are filling up again. I will have to correct any expectations. They change as world politics change.

LATIN AMERICAN PORTRAITS

"I have the consolation of leaving Chile independent"

O'Higgins as shown on peso of Chile.

A fighting, half-blood Irishman gained fame for himself and freedom for the country of his birth, yet died in poverty and exile. Ambrosio O'Higgins was an Irish merchant and later a viceroy to Chile. He had been born at Castle Dangan in County Meath in south-east Ireland, in 1720. In Chile he stayed at the home of Capt. Simón Riquelme de la Barrera. Ambrosio, 58, fell in love with Doña Isabel Riquelme de la Barrera, 18-year-old daughter of his host. Their child, Bernardo, was born at Chillans, Chile, on August 20, 1778, and was baptized on January 23, 1783. Later Bernardo's sister, Rosa, was born. Isabel was a creole and the fact that she was not a Spaniard was sufficient cause to create a scandal that would ruin Ambrosio politically. Hence, they never married and kept their relationship quiet.

Bernardo received his early schooling in Lima, but when 15 he was sent to a Catholic school in England. There he came under the influence of the Venezuelan, Miranda. Ambrosio died on March 18, 1801, and in 1802 Bernardo returned home. After learning to love England, he was torn between a predilection for the two countries. The hardships of the voyage home gave him great knowledge of the maritime activities of the world. The years immediately following were among the happiest of his life. A farmer at heart, he stayed at the Hacienda Las Canteras with his mother and sister, Rosa.

O'Higgins became a member of the radical party when the revolution broke out in Chile. On October 1 and 2, 1814, the Chileans were defeated by the Spaniards at Rancagua. There were two rebel factions in Chile opposing the Spaniards, one led by the Carrera brothers and the other by O'Higgins. In Argentina they pleaded their cause with San Martín. San Martín recognized O'Higgins as the Chilean leader, and himself led the combined Argentine and Chilean armies back to Chile in 1817. On February 12, 1817, San Martín defeated the Spaniards at Chacabuco. San Martín was interested in continuing his military operations against the Spaniards in Perú, and O'Higgins was made "Supreme Dictator" of Chile. On February 12, 1818, the independence of Chile was formally proclaimed. Final independence was assured by the victory at Maipo, on April 5, 1818. Chile honored O'Higgins by naming him "Liberator of Chile."

O'Higgins tried to train the people for a republican form of government. Law and order were improved, agricultural development encouraged, and local trade stimulated. He furthered the cause of education, and encouraged the growth of the press, magazines, and books.

Many of his reforms were unpopular. These included abolition of entailed estates (unpopular with the rich), cock fighting (unpopular with the gamblers) and bull fighting (unpopular with the enthusiasts of this recreation). There was also dissension in the form of personal jealousies and some conflict of political principles.

A constitutional convention was called in 1822. Revolts followed this, and on January 23, 1823, the cabildo of the capital asked O'Higgins to resign. His symbol of authority had been a sash, bestowed upon him by the Congress. He laid it upon a table and said: "I am sorry not to deposit this sash before the national assembly from which I last received it. I regret that I must retire without having made permanent the institutions that have been thought proper for the country and which I have sworn to defend, but at least I have the consolation of leaving Chile independent of all foreign domination, respected by the outside world, and covered with glory for its deeds of arms." Ten days later, accompanied by his mother and sister, he left for Perú.

O'Higgins was characterized as being quiet and reserved, who ate little, drank not at all, preferred to listen rather than speak, loved children, and was devoted to his mother and sister. He did not marry. He had one son, Demetrio, who died in 1869 at Montalván, his father's hacienda. His sister Rosa was devoted to him, and stayed with him to the end. Many persons praise and revere O'Higgins above Bolívar, San Martín and Sucre. He is remembered as being the founder and first president of Chile.

His mother died in May, 1839. In that same year the Chilean Senate restored to him his honors and military rank. Bernardo died of a heart attack, quietly and in peace, on October 23, 1842, at Lima, Perú.

O'Higgins's love of country and achievements in winning its independence and serving it in the first rough years of its history included unflinching patriotism and risk of his life many times. Because his influence led not only to a free but a better Chile, he is yet beloved.

A new Cincinnatus grasped the plow after exile. Once he wrote his mother his life and efforts had been dedicated "So that an Araucanian may see the conclusion and play the part his poor strength allows in ending forever Spanish rule in these regions." While in exile 20 years at Montalván, near Callao, Perú, he always watched with interest the events at home.

In 1946 a one peso copper coin, 25 millimeters in diameter, showed O'Higgins bust to the right. In 1947 a 20 centavo coin of copper, 18 millimeters, also portrayed him.

FRANCISCO DE PAULA SANTANDER

"Pure representative government is not suited to our character, customs and present conditions."

Santander as seen on a Colombian 20¢ piece.

Francisco de Paula Santander was born on April 2, 1792 at Rosario de Cucuta, Colombia. In later life he was known as "The Cucutano." His father was Juan Agustín Santander; his mother, Manuela Omana.

Santander was educated as a lawyer in Bogotá, Colombia, after he received the title of "doctor" at the age of 17 in the Colegio de Rosario. At 18 he joined forces with Bolívar and was assigned as a lieutenant. Once early in his career he disputed an order of Bolívar. He was told, "March your division to the place where you have been told to go or I'll shoot you." Santander marched. He soldiered for nine years and was promoted to general of a division at the Battle of Boyaca, which occurred on August 7, 1819.

Bolívar was elected president of Colombia in 1819. At that time Colombia included Venezuela, Nueva Granada, and Ecuador. Santander was appointed Governor of Cundinamarca on September 1, 1819.

Santander served as vice president under Bolívar between 1821 and 1826, and again in 1827. In the absence of Bolívar, he was acting president between 1821-26 and in 1827. In 1827 and 1828 Bolívar assumed dictatorial powers and deposed Santander. Santander was hated by Manuela, Bolívar's mistress. When the October, 1828 insurrection was put down, many were exiled and hanged. Against Manuela's wishes Santander escaped the gallows and was banished, being deprived of his military rank. Later, on January 1, 1834, Santander signed an order exiling Manuela.

When Santander assumed the vice presidency, he addressed Congress as follows: "Sir, your confidence is greater than my hopes. You have given me the helm of a ship which, though sheltered from the storm of civil strife, is still floating between the reefs of war and politics."

In September, 1828 Bolívar wrote General Soublotte: "I can no longer endure the perfidious ingratitude of Santander, and I have today written him to write to me no more." Santander's answer to this was "You are pleased to tell me . . . that you will no longer call me friend . . . Your letter has not surprised me, since for over a year my mortal enemies have been striving to remove me from your heart, and now they have succeeded."

The new republic of Nueva Granada was formed in 1832, and on March 9 of that year, Santander was elected president, where he served until 1837. He is regarded as "The founder of the nation" of Colombia.

In 1822 Bolívar was in Perú. Under Santander's direction, the army command was assigned General Sucre by Congress. Páez and Bolívar objected, and Bolívar returned, assuming the role of dictator. Santander said he would rather be under Spain's rule than that of a dictator. His legal mind, always seeking a constitutional background, was responsible for the conflict with Bolívar. Later Santander was suspected of complicity in a plot to kill Bolívar, and was condemned to death. Bolívar had him banished, and he went to Europe, then the United States. He was in the United States when he heard that he had been elected president, after Bolívar died.

Santander was characterized as being serious, grave and careless in the wearing of his clothes. He was of ruddy cheeks, wore a mustache, and had gray eyes.

A new constitution was adopted February 29, 1832; Santander became the first president October 7, 1832, following the separation from Venezuela. He remained in office until April 1, 1837. His was a good administration. Although excessively vain, he distinguished himself as a soldier, writer, politician, orator.

While in office he married Sexta Pontón in 1836. They had two daughters.

Santander favored a strong control of government—he explained, "Pure representative government is not suited to our character, customs, and present conditions."

Santander died in Bogotá, Colombia, May 6, 1840 at 126 Calle 16 after an illness. On April 2, 1892 (a century after his birthday) his remains were placed in a monument in a cemetery in Bogotá.

Between 1945 and 1947, the Republic of Colombia minted coins with the bust of Santander facing right. These were in silver, of 10 and 20 centavos. The obverse showed the bust, REPUBLICA DE COLOMBIA, the date. On the reverse was the value in a wreath.

The late Burton Saxton's fine collections of Roman and English coins have been acquired by Mark M. Salton-Schlessinger.

PRINTING BUREAU WHIPS SOME PROBLEMS—The Bureau of Engraving and Printing continues to improve its operations. The major portion of the redesigning and modification of the eight sheet-fed rotary presses installed for the dry intaglio printing of currency, 32 subjects to the sheet, has been completed. Research and testing relating to inks, papers and press materials used in rotary currency printings are continuing, and the quality of the printed impression has been improved. As a result of the technical improvements, together with various procedural changes, spoilage in the 32-subject currency production has decreased from 40 per cent in October, 1957, to 8.3 per cent June 30, 1958, and the cost per thousand notes has decreased from $13.41 in October, 1957, to approximately $7.00 June 30, 1958.

Obituaries

ROBERT PENNICK KING, A.N.A. NO. 92

Death has claimed another of America's early numismatists, Robert Pennick King, 91, who died at his home, 1206 W. Tenth St., Erie, Pa., on February 14. He was widely known for his writings on and collections of Lincoln numismatic items and had been a member of the American Numismatic Association since 1906. Locally he was active in the Chautauqua County Historical Society and the Chautauqua County Coin, Stamp and Curio Club. He had been an accountant for the Scott estate for more than forty years. Interment was in the Erie Cemetery following services at the Burton Funeral Home conducted by the Rev. Robert W. Orvis, pastor of Trinity Memorial. Only nieces and nephews survive.

"The collecting hobby was born in me, I guess," wrote Mr. King, "as my father, who died when I was two years old, left a collection of some 800 varieties of Civil War envelopes, his father being senior partner in the firm of King & Baird, printers of Philadelphia, which firm issued a number of these envelopes.

"My earliest flier in the money market that I recall was when a visitor to the Centennial Exhibition in 1876 presented me with a five centime piece of Napoleon III. . . . This was followed by a collection of Civil War tokens, they being the easiest things to acquire, as prior to 1880 there were a lot of these little pieces still in circulation. . . . My interest in Lincoln medals does not date back very many years, probably three or four prior to the Lincoln Centennial in 1909."

His Lincolniana collection of numismatic pieces was one of the largest in the world. Other collections included glass, china and ivory art objects and more than 2,500 silver souvenir spoons.

Mr. King contributed a number of papers to The Numismatist. Among them was a series in 1937 listing and describing in detail an additional forty medals of Christopher Columbus to supplement the Malcolm Storer listing published in The Numismatist in 1925.

His outstanding numismatic contribution, however, was his descriptions of medals, plaques, tokens and coins of Abraham Lincoln printed in The Numismatist of February, 1924. This issue, long a collector's item itself, listed and described 887 Lincoln items of numismatic interest and required 117 pages to do so. Two supplements, in April, 1927, and August, 1933, brought his listings to a total of more than 1050 pieces. Each description included a reference to the metals in which the given piece was struck, but did not list each metal separately.

This was not the first list of Lincoln numismatic items, as Mr. King pointed out in his introduction. Previous ones, however, were not up to date or complete and generally were unavailable to collectors.

"There is one thing, however, to which Mr. King does not make reference," Numismatist Editor Frank Duffield said at the time, "... and that is his generosity in contributing the list. . . . The original list, which he had compiled for his personal use, was found not to be suitable for use as a catalog, and at a very great sacrifice of time and labor the entire list was rewritten, rearranged, renumbered and regrouped into periods or classes for greater convenience to the collector. For this The Numismatist is, and all its readers should be, grateful to Mr. King."

During this sesquicentennial year of Lincoln's birth, the thoughts of American numismatists quite naturally turn to numismatic items associated with the Emancipator. Mr. King is remembered as the man whose interests and writings made possible an organized presentation of Lincoln numismatically. His collection, intact in the Erie museum, undoubtedly contains specimens Mr. King had acquired since his original catalog. It is to be hoped that some day a third supplement of items "unlisted in King" may be published, using material from his collection as well as that from others.

America has lost a true numismatist, a student and researcher, in the death of Mr. King. The American Numismatic Association has lost a staunch supporter and a symbol of those who founded and nurtured the organization so many years ago. His fellow man has lost a friend who gave freely of his knowledge that the world might be a better place for his having lived. — EGB

OTTO THOMAS SGHIA, A.N.A. NO. 4192

News of the death on February 2, 1959, of Otto Thomas Sghia saddened New York and Miami collectors. He was 69 years old and is survived by his widow, daughter and a granddaughter. After his retirement in 1951 from the business of supplying paper to druggists, he moved to Coral Gables, where he lived until his death.

Otto was a man who was well liked by all genuine coin collectors. He resented those people who became collectors merely for the purpose of accumulating quantities of coins for a profit. He was generous to the younger sincere collectors and was glad to share duplicates with them. His enthusiasm for numismatics created many good collectors. When he found a person who seemed to have a real interest in coins, he invited him to visit one of the local clubs where that interest could be shared with other collectors.

His enthusiasm for numismatics led him to organize a coin club in the Bronx, where he lived up to 1951. It was his zealous leadership that made it one of the finest clubs in the East. He served for five years as its first president. In 1941 and 1942 he became president of the New York Numismatic Club. Besides serving in these offices, he helped to organize several local numismatic hobby shows and was a frequent attendant at the conventions of the American Numismatic Association, which he joined in 1933. He was also a member of the American Numismatic Society.

His collection was made over a period of some thirty years. He owned many prized pieces of the U. S. coinage between 1792 and 1815. He had fine collections of colonial coins, hard times tokens, U. S. commemorative coins, as well as a large collection of foreign crowns. He took great pleasure in displaying these pieces, most of which were in the finest state of preservation.

Numismatics has lost a real friend with Otto's passing. — MJK

JOHN LEWIS SHARPE, A.N.A. NO. 9082

It is with deep regret that we announce the death of John Lewis Sharpe, who passed away at his home in Toronto on February 11, 1959.

Quiet, unassuming, Jack had a deep sense of human understanding. His loss will be felt by all who knew him. He was well known in numismatic circles. A charter member of the Toronto Coin Club, he was president for several years and a former director of the CNA. Jack had been a member of the A.N.A. since 1942.

During the early years of Toronto Coin Club, when meetings took place in members' homes, Jack always had the "welcome mat" out, not only for meetings but personal visits. He was never happier than when a friend dropped in to talk about coins or notes. His den was one of the most interesting rooms one ever entered, with an amazing collection of coins, notes, stamps, old watches, bullets, book match covers, photographs, and a very fine numismatic library. I believe he was a collector all his life and over the years he had accumulated an almost complete collection of Canadian coins, lacking only the extreme rarities.

When Radio Station CFRB came into existence in 1927 as the first batteryless station in the world, Jack was the first employee, as engineer, a position he held until his retirement a couple of years ago. He was for many years a member of the Progress Club of Toronto, the Dufferin Old Boys' Association, and a life member of the Masonic order.

We cherish his memory and express sincere sympathy to those bereaved. — JAP

MRS. FLORENCE HEPP SUMMERILL, A.N.A. NO. 8334

Mrs. Florence Hepp Summerill, 53, died November 18, 1958, at her home, 30 Fenimore Rd., Teaneck, N. J. She had been an invalid over a year. She is survived by her husband, Dr. Frederick Summerill, and a brother, Dr. L. Clark Hepp of Denver, Colo. The Rev. Thomas Wingate, rector of St. George's Episcopal Church, Georgetown, conducted services at the Gross Memorial Home. Interment was in Emanuel Cemetery.

Mrs. Summerill, a member of the American Numismatic Association since 1941, was an active collector and early feminine speaker on numismatic subjects. While living in Rochester, N. Y., during World War II she addressed the annual banquet there, although she was the only A.N.A. female member in that city at that time.

She had won prizes in many other fields of collecting, such as tatting and cross-stitching. A patchwork quilt made of 11,000 small pieces was an award winner. Mrs. Summerill was a member of the International Association of Hand Arts, New York Oratorio Society, the Passaic Woman's Club and Kappa Delta Sorority. She was acting secretary of the Passaic Board of Day Nursery. Her father was the late Dr. G. Brinton Hepp of Denver, Colo., and her mother was a direct descendant of William Brewster of the Plymouth Colony. — EGB

Book Review

"Gold and Platinum Coinage of Imperial Russia from 1701 to 1911" by H. M. Severin, Crown and Taler Publishing Co., New York, N. Y., 1958, xv, 77 pages, 17 plates, $10.00.

H. M. Severin has produced about as readily usable, compact yet definitive a catalog as one could possibly hope for, covering a most interesting series. In just under 650 numbers he lists the imperial Russian gold and platinum coinage together with a certain number of quasi-coins; gold medallic pieces of a commemorative character which have come to be associated with the regular coinage. The author disavows any pretense to original research. His work is one of compilation. No matter: The original research had in effect been completed by the early twentieth century by a group of first-rate Russian numismatists. But their books and articles, mostly in Russian, are now rare and many are prohibitively expensive.

The order and method of listing generally follows the simple and clear style of the Giel and Ilyin and Ilyin and Tolstoy catalogs published about fifty years ago. The listing stops at 1911. Severin points out that reliable records beyond that year are not available outside the USSR. Thus a few of the last Czarist coins and the Soviet chervonets of 1923 are not included.

Russian mint records for gold and platinum struck before 1912 are presented, and there are other valuable appendices: A list of mintmasters and engravers (whose initials appear on many of the coins), a list of Russian rulers, a full bibliography, and an interesting note on novodels. These are described as official restrikes made by a complaisant mint administration for collectors. It would have been useful to mention that the term also includes official facsimiles of older coins for which the original dies were no longer available.

The author has drawn on the long experience of Alex von Sandro in providing estimated market values of the coins he lists. Any two experts on Russian gold will quarrel with some of the individual estimates, but likely they would disagree between themselves on how to recast them better. Taken as a whole, the estimates provide worthwhile, though perhaps optimistic, guidance.

A word about the makeup and appearance of the book is in order. It is a product of the same excellent German firm which prints most of the publications of the American Numismatic Society. For the size of the volume the price ($10.00) is not low. But I, for one, heartily favor paying the price and having a well-bound, splendidly illustrated and altogether attractive and durable book. It pleased me particularly that the printer had the necessary Russian type faces so that legends, Cyrillic dates, mintmarks, etc., could be shown in the text.

In the introduction to this book, the author threatens to compile similar works on Russian silver and copper. We can only wish that this first venture will have the thoroughgoing success it deserves and thereby encourage Severin to make good his welcome threat. — RAN-

— The Editor

The February meeting of the Passaic County Numismatic Club featured the banquet for the installation of the new officers. Out-going President Leon S. Rosenblum was presented with an inscribed plaque as a token of appreciation for his three years service as president. Mr. Rosenblum gave a brief talk and introduced the new officers who are Carl W. Pannicke, president; John Galasso, vice president; Joseph E. D'Ghetto, secretary-treasurer. Most formality was dispensed with and open discussions were heard on all phases of numismatics, with altered coins, their manufacture and methods of detection, being well aired and enjoyed by all.

The Pacific Coast Numismatic Society held its 515th meeting January 28. Clifford H. Bloom was the speaker on the pre-civil war period in California. H. F. Bowker was appointed consultant on East Asian Coinages for the Smithsonian Institution, in Washington, D. C. The President closed the meeting by asking the members to stand for a moment of silence, in memory of James C. Schwabacher, who had been a member since 1918, and passed away on December 21, 1958.

The 20th annual banquet and 247th meeting of the Orange County Coin Club was held January 28 at the Woman's Clubhouse in Brea, Calif. Master of Ceremonies Ralph Mitchell of Palo Alto presented the "Melody Four" who gave another of their fine musical performances. Frank O. McIntyre spoke on "I Came to Bury Caesar, Not to Praise Him." Although the connotation of this title meant to many of the numismatically inclined guests that the speaker would unfold a fanciful word picture of a Caesarian denarius with overtones of Queen Cleopatra and Mark Antony, it developed as he spoke, sometimes in jest, that this famous oratorical phrase was merely a convenient vehicle used by him to carry the listener back beyond the dawn of Christendom to show by the earliest written records that children of today are as bad, but no worse, in the eyes and minds of their parents than children born B.C. Anyway, what the speaker, smart and smooth in the art of swaying his listeners, had to say agreed with his audience and they agreed with him. For his excellent effort, the speaker was then awarded a genuine coin which was circulated in Caesar's time, bearing his name and showing on the reverse the sacrificial implements of paganism.

Now came Dr. Verner G. Rich, past president of the club, to introduce and induct the following as officers: president, Wm. E. Hogue; vice president, Dan Harley; secretary, Herbert M. Bergen; treasurer, John Rime; librarian, C. Glenn Curtis, M.D.; directors, John Stoppelwerth, Charles Boothe, Charles Colver, C. L. Emmons, M.D. Missing at the banquet was only one of these officers, Dr. C. Glenn Curtis, who was confined to a hospital bed by a misbehaving heart.

In a manner befitting a worthy retiring president, John Stoppelwerth delivered a short talk, entitled "Stepping Down," in which he told of club accomplishments during his administration. A gavel, suitably inscribed in sterling silver, was presented to him. In conclusion, the ascending president, William Hogue, spoke of his plans for 1959.

The 46th president of the Rochester Numismatic Association is Stella Osterman, the first lady president of the association. Mrs. Osterman joined the R.N.A. on April 15, 1947 and succeeded her husband who was the 44th president two years ago. An original medal, an annual event was presented to Mrs. Osterman at our annual banquet on January 9, at the Party House in Rochester by Alphonse Kolb, the designer.

The Las Vegas (Nev.) Numismatic Society elected the following: President, Charles Shafter; Vice President, Victor Kunkel; Secretary-Treasurer, Ruth Brockman. Slides were shown at the February meeting on U. S. coins, 20¢ to $1.00. A membership drive is now underway and interested collectors on both U. S. and foreign coins are urged to attend. Meetings are held the first Saturday of each month at Rancho High Room 279 at 7:30 p.m.

An uncirculated 1959 Lincoln Memorial cent was presented to everyone attending the February meeting of the Worcester County Numismatic Society. In spite of adverse weather, a new record was set with 102 members and guests present. Total membership is 135. Howard Davis, NENA president, and his wife were present as part of his plan to visit every club belonging to NENA.

On display was the book with which the Worcester County Numismatic Society won first prize in the 1956 ANA National Coin Week Contest.

There were 75 present at the February meeting of the East Los Angeles Coin Club. Guest speaker was Charles G. Colver. He gave a very interesting speech on English coins.

The fifth anniversary of the Camden County Coin Club of Camden, N. J., was observed at a banquet at Kenny's Restaurant, on February 23 with 58 present. President Joseph Elstein presided as toastmaster, Joseph DeCou was banquet chairman. Winner of first place in the exhibits was Harry G. Troth, Jr. who received an engraved plaque; ribbons for second and third went to Leslie Hess and Joseph MacMillan. Several exhibits were especially designed as the fifth anniversary theme of our fast growing coin club. Guest speaker was the wife of J. Harold Wells, a member and local dealer. Mrs. Wells displayed a collection of ivory figurines and carved ivory. She gave a wonderful description of the art and history of each piece.

At the Northwest Coin Club meeting of February 18, there were several exhibits celebrating Washington's and Lincoln's birthdays. N. C. Nielsen showed a complete set of Presidential, Treasury and Naval United States mint medals. Art and Carmen Baum showed their Washington and Lincoln displays, made up of large notes as well as fractional, colonial and continental paper money; Civil war tokens, medals and coins bearing Washington and Lincoln portraits were included.

Members and guests totaling 108 greeted incoming President Paul Hamm at the 261st meeting of the San Diego Numismatic Society, February 2 at Vasa Hall. Highlight of the evening's program was Douglas Decker's talk on "Coin Investment." Every aspect of the subject was covered by the speaker, who, amongst other things, emphasized the profit possibilities resulting from a careful investment in coins. Decker pointed out that even the most conscientious hobbyist could invest in coins as logically as in any investment field. Francis S. Jones was awarded first place for the best display of the evening, comprised of California gold and silver commemorative coins.

The Victoria Numismatic Society met at the Victoria Art Gallery on Feb. 9th with 25 members and 18 visitors present. Two new members were welcomed into the club, Barney B. Hagar and Edward Callan. Guest speaker was M. Kew, B. C. Museum anthropologist; his topic - "Indian Trading of 'Indian Monies' before White Man's Currency."

Members and guests totalling 84 attended the February meeting of the Ryan Aeronautical Co. Coin Club of San Diego. Douglas Decker, the evening's speaker, reported on the activities of the San Diego Industrial Recreation Council. As a Ryan club commissioner, Decker represented the coin club at the council's recent banquet meeting where all aspects of the community's recreational activities were discussed. Among the activities sponsored by the council is the annual Hobby Show, which always draws large and enthusiastic crowds. Decker prophesied that the number of coin displays, which are a prominent part of the show, would show an increase this year over last year. Paul Hamm, President of the San Diego Numismatic Society, spoke informally on "Coin Week," drawing attention to the activities in which any club or individual can participate, and discussing aims and purposes. First and second place ribbons were awarded, respectively, to Glenn Baker and Irving Knickerbocker for the evening's best displays.

At the February meeting of the Oak Park Coin Club, plans were discussed for two important future events. The club aims to give mighty tough competition to others during National Coin Week, so don't say you weren't warned! It was disclosed that the club will hold "Open House" in May, in honor of our hundredth meeting. A medal is to be struck for that meeting. On display were foreign government-issued gold medals, various dollars of the world which were chop marked, and Civil War tokens, Harry Flower; photo of early Treasury Dept. engravings of Lincoln, various Lincoln medals, including one from the Sanitary Fair in Chicago, Glenn Smedley; a Turkish gold coin, 2" across, of the type formerly used by Sultans to purchase women for their harems, Vasilios Katsigiannis. Win Hagey displayed a 1956-D mint error cent, which was struck 25% off-center, on a thin, frayed planchet, and a 1959-P cent, and Earl Salisbury provided the comic relief, with a huge "One Foolar" play dollar, made for the Gay Nineties club.

The 34th meeting of the Queens County Coin Club was called to order by President Bob Savage on February 9th at Fellowship Hall, Glendale Baptist Church, 78th Avenue and 79th Place, Glendale, L. I. Plans were made for the annual dinner March 9th.

On February 6, 1959 the Los Angeles Coin Club held its 371st meeting; 233 attended. Highlights included new additions to the club, in the way of a professional style ballot barrel for door prize tickets and an auction display board. A.N.A. slides covering commemorative coins were shown as our program for the evening.

A new attendance record of 103 was set at the February 24th meeting of the William Penn Coin Club of Philadelphia. An unusual feature of this meeting was gold coins as door prizes. The tables were crowded with displays of Lincoln and Washington portraits on coins, paper money, medals, plaques, stamps, prints and photographs. The exhibitors were Samuel Burgdorf, Ann Lorden, William Grichin and Daniel Lorden. Also displayed were crowns of the world mounted in plexiglass, the work of Donald Abrahams, who spoke on the origin of the dollar sign. Walter Stepek exhibited German porcelain money. Adult visitors are always welcome on the 4th Tuesday of each month.

At the February 17 meeting of the Philadelphia Coin Club Hollis Algayer displayed 200 different religious medals. John Harrison showed a large piece of wood from a rafter in the old mint building here in Philadelphia. George Cucore agreed to make a gavel from this wood.

The East Bay Coin Club, Oakland, Calif., held its February meeting Friday the 13th at Danish Hall. There were 79 present. The speaker was R. J. (Jack) Frost who read his fanciful and humorous paper, "Story of a Lincoln Cent." A fine lot of exhibits were displayed featuring Lincoln.

The Ohio Valley Coin Association will hold its second annual open house on Sunday, April 12, from 1:00 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the Steubenville Y.M.C.A. Auditorium. There will be exhibits, displays and bourse tables. The public is invited.

The Oregon Numismatic Society met February 9 at the Multnomah Hotel to hear a very interesting lecture and discussion on large cents. Robert Carter gave a very detailed report regarding the origin and background which proved to be very interesting to all members. Also at this meeting William Worth, general chairman of the A.N.A. convention to be held in Portland in August of this year, made additional appointments.

Over 100 members were in attendance at this meeting.

The Camden (Ark.) Coin Club had their first meeting on January 6 with eight members and three junior members present. Jack Dorris was elected president, Matt Rothert, secretary-treasurer and a board of seven composed of the two officers and Eldon Carnal, Marion Cook, George Bowers, J. P. Hall and Don Bucher. The club will meet the first Tuesday in each month at the Hotel Camden, Camden, Ark. The club voted unanimously to join the American Numismatic Association. Plans were made for the Arkansas State meeting in Camden February 1.

The 481st meeting of the Chicago Coin Club was held February 11 with President Joseph Merkel presiding. Many of the members exhibited Lincoln and Washington items such as early engraved photo of Lincoln by the Treasury Department, medals portraying Lincoln and Washington, plaques of Lincoln designed by Roine and Victor D. Brenner, plaque of Washington 1732-1932, Lincoln-Hamlin campaign button of 1860 and Lincoln campaign button of 1864, Washington tokens, Lincoln fractional currency, and 1959 cents. Other items of interest was a contemporary medal of Grant struck in bronze (The original struck in gold, is in the Smithsonian Institution. It is the largest medal struck by the U. S. Mint.) Also shown were calendar and skating medals, coins of ancient Persia, government-issued official gold medals of Great Britain, Israel and Poland, commemorative medals of Indian territory, petroleum medals in five different finishes. Exhibitors were Glenn Smedley, I. T. Kopicki, Harry Flower, Fred Clarke, Arlie Slabaugh, R. G. Fister, Ben Odesser, Nathan Eglit, M. Vernon Sheldon, and J. Merkel.

Dr. Y. A. Sargis, wellknown numismatist and historian, spoke on Abraham Lincoln at the February meeting of the Cleveland Coin Club at the Statler Hotel. He told of Lincoln's life; how he fought for liberty and the freedom of the slaves, and many of the remarkable things he did throughout his career. His closing statement that "Lincoln is Immortal, he dies not" made a vivid impression upon all who attended this meeting. Dr. Sargis displayed Lincoln chapter pennies in five different metals. A misprint of Lincoln paper money, Lincoln Masonic metals, Lincoln commemorative in gold, a large picture of Abe and Wilkes Booth, and a copy of the Gettysburg Address. Other displays were as follows: Nate Gold, Small size paper notes with Lincoln's portrait, a $5 uncut sheet National Bank note, $5 Federal Reserve Bank note, $5 U. S. notes, $5 Federal Reserve notes, and $5 Silver certificates; Myron Sobotta, Lincoln cents; Skip Raymond, Washington medals, and other medals of men having birthdays in February; Joe Lukas, Lincoln era, coins and other items; Laura Caddy, $1 Legal tender 1875, $2 Legal tender 1880 and $5 Lincoln in frame, Silver certificate 1923; Millie Shunk, Love medallion, Angel and Devil for St. Valentine's Day. New officers: President Myron Sobotta; Vice President, Howard Humitsch; Secretary, Millie Shunk; Treasurer, Mildred Evans.

At the February meeting of the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society, Milton C. Strauch spoke on the "Rise and Fall of the Netherlands Empire" and exhibited an outstanding collection of coins of the Netherlands empire. The new index to Calcoin News, compiled by Lesley G. Lodge, was on display and was highly commended. Ralph Mitchell displayed an old American flag with Abraham Lincoln's portrait in the field of stars and the name Lincoln and Hamlin on the stripes. A bronze plaque, 6½ x 7½ inches, the Declaration of Independence in fine lettering on it, with the handwritten signatures at the bottom, and in the center a circle with Congress in session, and date July 4, 1776 was on display by Mrs. Harry Cutler. Plans for National Coin Week are in full swing.

On the 5th of February the Staten Island (N. Y.) Coin Club was formed. The first meeting was held at the Y.M.C.A. of West Brighton, S. I., with 29 in attendance, all future meetings will be held at the Staten Island Museum, St. George, Staten Island. The following officers were elected: President, Philip Rosenbaum; Vice President, Gennaro DeAngelis; Recording Secretary, Robin Crowley; Treasurer, Charles Wranovics; Corresponding Secretary, Jack W. Nannery. The club meets the first Thursday of each month. Anyone wishing further information please contact Jack W. Nannery, 215 Maujer St., Brooklyn 6, N. Y.

The Washington Numismatic Society at its meeting on January 5 installed its new officers for 1959: Neil Shafer, president; B. M. Douglas, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Gleder, secretary; and Eldridge G. Jones, treasurer. The program for the evening included an interesting description of the duties of all officers and committees presented by the outgoing officers, and the usual auction which has become one of the principal features of each meeting. Approximately 140 attended.

The February 2 meeting included a program in which several experts outlined in detail the methods used to alter coins so as to make them more valuable. These alterations usually consist of changing dates, removing or adding mint marks.

JUST ONE MAN'S OPINION

The Carson City Dollars are the most underpriced series of all coins minted.

All one has to do is check the number minted of each year and you will see that there will never be enough to supply our five (5) million or more (est.) collectors. Take the 1885 with only 228,000 minted. This would be one for about every twenty-one collectors. Second comes the 1881 with only 296,000 and so on.

I have a few sets of the 1880 through 1885 complete in Strictly Brilliant Uncirculated.

FOR SET OF SIX (6) ... $21.95

Below are my prices for single coins ... all Brilliant Uncirculated.

1878-CC Pr. Surface $ 6.00	1882-CC Brill. Unc. . $ 4.00	1885-CC Prf. Surface $ 7.00
1880-CC Brill. Unc. . 6.00	1883-CC Brill. Unc. . 4.00	1890-CC Prf. Surface 6.00
1881-CC Brill. Unc. . 5.00	1884-CC Brill. Unc. . 4.00	1890-CC Brill. Unc. . 4.50
1882-CC Pr. Surface 5.50	1885-CC Brill. Unc. . 5.00	1891-CC Brill. Unc. . 4.50
		1892-CC Brill. Unc. . 5.50

Please keep in mind that I guarantee every dollar I sell to be Strictly Brilliant Uncirculated. Money back guarantee plus return postage if not pleased.

My second offering for this month is, in my opinion, a small set with a future.

The War Time Silver Nickel consisting of 11 coins minted 1942 to 1945. (See Red Book.) This set in Brilliant Uncirculated is beautiful and also underpriced in this booming coin market.

MY PRICE FOR THE COMPLETE SET IS ... $6.50

Only until present stock is sold.

The 1943-D is of course in this set and this is one that I compare in value to the 1942-D which is selling today for $4.50 each.

POST-INVENTORY CLEARANCE

Upon completion of our inventory, we find that we are overstocked on many good and desirable types of U. S. coins. Therefore, we take pleasure in offering this month, a fine selection of circulated MERCURY DIMES (as well as other fine coins), in standard rolls of fifty coins each. These rolls are conservatively graded, and in some cases are undergraded. We do not have a large number of rolls of each coin. If you are interested, we suggest that you act quickly, because the small stock available won't last long at these prices!

UNITED STATES SILVER DOLLARS—ALL UNCIRCULATED

These are today's best buys when all other coins are very high in price. Many are far older and far rarer than Lincoln Cents, but still selling Unc. for double face. What Lincoln Cents can you buy for double face, or any other coin for that matter? Better buy while the price is still low. These have light marks, as all dollars seem to, but are all carefully selected copies. Maybe a few Cents higher, but worth it.

FAST ACTION — IT ACTUALLY CLEANS IN SECONDS!

Does not add shine, but brings out natural color, including original brilliance if it is still there under tarnish or coating. Dull or dark uncirculated coins become brilliant uncirculated coins in seconds.

This result of years of experiment can be safely used on valuable coins to improve their appearance and increase their value.

On sale in many leading stores in 4-oz. bottles, with full directions, at $1.00.

If your dealer does not yet have it, send us $1.00 for 3-oz. bottle (enough to clean hundreds of coins) carefully packed and postpaid to any address in the United States or Canada.

SCARCE FOREIGN COINS —

There is relatively little demand for run-of-the-mill foreign coins. But for scarce foreign material there is a sustained and growing market. You'll find a wide range of desirable crowns and scarce minor coins in my bi-weekly lists. And if you have a collection of worth-while foreign coins to dispose of you'll find me an informed and appreciative buyer.

WHOLESALE FOREIGN COINS for the "Small Dealer"

Although there are many dealers who sell foreign coins in large quantities, there are few who will supply them on a "per 10" basis for the small or beginning dealer.

My new wholesale price list, now ready, is the only one I know of which prices a wide variety of modern foreign coins "per 10." You can maintain a good stock of maximum variety with a minimum cash outlay. You will also make more money if you buy more variety and less of each! If you are a dealer, please write for this new list.

If you are a collector, you will enjoy my retail "stock list" which will surprise you with its large selection of MODERN FOREIGN COINS at reasonable prices. No charge, a postal card will do.

CORRECTION

In the full page advertisement of

THE STANDARD CATALOGUE OF UNITED STATES COINS AND TOKENS

THE 19TH EDITION OF THIS FAMOUS REFERENCE WORK, SO LONG EDITED AND PUBLISHED BY THE LATE WAYTE RAYMOND, IS CURRENTLY BEING COMPILED UNDER THE DIRECTION OF JOHN J. FORD, JR.

- Numerous changes and additions will be made in the Colonial series, mainly in the State Coinage listings.
- Half Cent and Large Cent coinage figures by date (and where possible by type) will appear in tables immediately following the descriptive text in each instance.
- Other U. S. Minor, Silver and Gold coins will have mintages in the text, parenthesized next to the dates, for handy reference and comparison.
- All coinage figures are being checked and rechecked with the original Mint records in the National Archives for absolute accuracy.
- The Introductions and Notes to each series are being reviewed and, in most instances, rewritten. New data and illustrations will be added wherever possible.
- A complete listing of Proof coins dated prior to 1858, with indications of either actual rarity or value, will be included for the first time.
- Augustus Humbert and U. S. Assay Office of Gold coins will be listed for the official Provisional Mint issues that they actually are.
- Several hitherto unknown Pioneer or Territorial gold coins will be listed and illustrated.
- Hard Times Tokens will be correctly presented and priced for this edition, their first appearance in the Standard Catalogue since 1942.
- The most complete listing of priced Merchant Tokens, 1789-1858, ever attempted, will be a most important feature of the 19th edition.
- Token arrangement and breakdown will revise Lyman Low's work of sixty years ago, and will be worth the price of the catalogue alone.

WITH NUMEROUS OTHER CORRECTIONS, ALTERATIONS, REVISIONS AND ADDITIONS, INCLUDING A SENSIBLE APPROACH TO PRICING, WITH THE COOPERATION OF NOTED AUTHORITIES AND PROFESSIONALS.

The 19th edition, STANDARD CATALOGUE OF UNITED STATES COINS AND TOKENS, will be available towards the close of 1959. The retail price will be $5. Successive editions will appear at the close of each year, to complement the early summer publication date of the Whitman Guidebook.
